

Some specific factors that may make an oral exam more advantageous:

You want your students to demonstrate higher order thinking skills without failing a question because of a technical mistake early on	You want students to get immediate feedback	You want to assess whether students understand previous assignments they have submitted
You require direct evidence of learning	You want face-to-face time with each student to increase connection	You want to build or assess students' oral communication skills
